EDMONTON REPORT

By Donald F. Smith
Special Correspondent

EDMONTON: Despite an increase of more than $8,000,000 in the value of livestock marketed in Alberta in the first six months of this year it was not nearly enough to make up for what the farmer lost in income from the sale of field products as compared with last year, reports the provincial statistician in his review of the second quarter of economic activity in Alberta.

The restricted purchasing power of the farmer as a result of the grain quotas, he believes, is one of the chief reasons for a slight decline in the province's economy as compared with that of the first quarter. Linked with the farmer's plight is the poor spring which adversely affected the building trades.

Detailed figures place the farmers' returns on wheat between Aug. 1, 1953 and June 30, 1954, at $115,000,000, compared with $152,432,000 during the corresponding period a year ago. To the end of June this year, 100,877,000 bushels of wheat had been marketed by Alberta farmers, compared with 117,255,000 to the end of June, 1953.

Decreased marketings also are noted this year for oats, barley and rye, with a slight increase in flax seed.

An estimated $34,770,415 was paid for cattle in the first six months of this year, compared with $33,444,654 in the corresponding period of 1953. The total net livestock marketings to the end of June, 1954, are placed at 146,045 head, compared with 200,771 head last year.

Other livestock totals with last year's figures for the six-month period in brackets are: calves, 42,720 head ($5,250), $2,205,451 ($2,133,817); sheep and lambs, 60,538 ($49,992), $1,196,456 ($1,013,850); and hogs, 736,972 head ($783,305), $39,891,730 ($33,417,938).

The statistician's figures show that the Alberta cattle seller was in a little better position in June than in some of the previous months of this year, when prices were considerably lower than for the corresponding period of last year.

During June the price paid for good steers was $18.9 a hundred at Calgary, same as in June, 1953; $18.32 at Edmonton, compared with $18.01 last year, and $18.63 at Lethbridge, compared with $18.11. But the six-month average was $17.54 at Calgary, compared with $19.62; $16.95 at Edmonton, compared with $19.12, and $17.60 at Lethbridge, compared with $18.83 in 1953.

Hog prices averaged better for the six months this year than last. At Edmonton the price averaged $33.70 this year, compared with $26.64 last year; at Calgary, $32.99, compared with $26.74, and at Lethbridge, $32.79, compared with $26.46.

The cash income of the Alberta dairymen increased during the first five months of this year by virtue of his having sold more of his products, notably butterfat for cream, cry butter, milk for cheese making and milk for fluid sales. The total cash income from January to the end of May was estimated at $10,314,000 compared with $9,961,000 in the corresponding period of 1953.

Dairy producers sold 8,081,000 pounds of butterfat for creamery butter, compared with 7,569,000 pounds in 1953 and their income rose from $4,534,000 to $4,738,000 in this field. Sales of milk for cheese totalled 11,979,000 pounds, compared with 9,989,000 pounds in 1953 and the income was $279,000 compared with $230,000.

Milk for fluid sales rose from 80,341,000 pounds and $3,640,000 for the first five months of 1953, to 85,061,000 pounds and $3,852,000 this year.

Decreases in sales of milk for concentration, ice cream and fluid cream were noted—50,618,000 pounds as against 54,737,000 last year—while dairy butter continued its decrease—28,000 pounds as against 39,000 in 1953.

Cash income from eggs dropped from $3,580,419 to $2,917,529 for the first six months, while poultry marketing income dropped from $438,213 to $377,491. In both cases it reflected lower prices as the quantities of produce were up.

Stock Car Racing Draws Big Crowd Here

A huge crowd ushered in Vulcan's new sport of stock car racing on the Vulcan track Sunday afternoon, Aug. 22. This new sport, sponsored by the newly-formed Vulcan Stock Car Club, set the whole area to talking as nearly a thousand watched the thrills of the quarter-mile track.

Cars were entered from Vulcan, Lethbridge, Stirling and Standard, with honors going to car 888, driven by Ralph Miskulin of Lethbridge. Second in the feature race of the afternoon was car 11, driven by Jim Langdon of Standard, while third went to Heber Thelin, car 9, also of Standard. This race was 20 laps.

Eldon Rasmussen of Standard, Ralph Miskulin, Tommy Frazer of Standard, Ralph Miskulin, Jim Langdon and Eldon Rasmussen won firsts in the six respective heats.

The races were handled by Gordon Stone of the Stock Car Club of Lethbridge, and according to reports here, he will continue to handle future races.

The local club was formed by a group of the young men of the town, and an attempt is being made at the present time to form a South Alberta Stock Car Circuit consisting of Lethbridge, Brooks, Standard and Vulcan. The track is owned by Harry Roebuck, a local farmer, who has played an important part in getting the sport organized.

As a sidelight to the races of Sunday, Al Mertz of Stirling beat Ralph Miskulin of Lethbridge in a matched race. Most of the fans did not know until after the races what this race was all about. More stock car racing will take place next Sunday afternoon.

Increased Interest In Winter Wheat

(By the District Agriculturist)

Due to a number of factors farmers in the foothills area of Southern Alberta are showing increased interest in the growing of winter wheat. The advantages of winter wheat need not be enumerated here, as they are well known. However its efficiency which makes for better distribution of farm work, and more effective utilization of labour, is a definite advantage, as well as its ability to cope with the wild oats.

The varieties most suitable to our conditions are Karkov 22 M.C. and Yogo. These two are the most winter hardy of the presently available varieties, and are about equal in yield. They tend to be weak in the straw, with Karkov being the better of the two. Yogo is more resistant to shattering and also shows resistance to several races of bunt. Generally Karkov is the most popular variety, and better suited to the foothills area.

Experimental evidence has been obtained at the Lethbridge Experimental Station which shows the value of seeding shallow into a firm seed bed. For 13 varieties tested, plots seeded shallow into firm soil yield approximately double that of plots seeded deeply into loose soil. This difference was primarily due to a difference in winter survival.

Wheat Streak Mosaic has been a most important cause of loss to some winter wheat producers in the past two years. A bulletin on this disease and its control is available from this office free of charge. Seeding after September is one of the important recommendations.

SERVICE BOARD NOTES

H. S. Burns, Field Supervisor

Experiments on the control of Canada Thistle with 2,4-D and nitrogen fertilizer are being carried out in Idaho through the University of Idaho Experiment station and the U. S. Department of Agriculture. These experiments involve the use of 2,4-D with nitrogen fertilizer and follow cropping with wheat.

The first year's trials show a tremendous increase in yield where both were used over the check plots where neither was used, in fact the yield of wheat was more than doubled. These experiments are to be conducted over a five-year period and are of interest in this part of Alberta where Canada Thistle continues to increase and thrive.

In observations of this weed in the County of Vulcan in 1954, patches of Canada Thistle treated in June with 2,4-D ceased to grow and no seed has developed. We are of the opinion that if this treatment is persisted in for a few years the weeds will be forced to give up.

To Take Psychiatric Course

Madeline White Taking Four-Year Nursing Course

Madeline White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James T. White of Vulcan, has entered the nursing field, taking a combined four-year course of psychiatric and affiliation. The course calls for two years training at the Provincial Mental hospital and two years in an affiliated hospital, offering an unusual program in the nursing education. After the student graduates, she qualifies for registration in the Alberta Association of Registered Nurses, and is also eligible to enter the Public Health or industrial nursing field, or in social service or personal guidance, providing she has a university entrance.

Psychiatric nursing conforms to the regulations of the University of Alberta and involves treating of the mentally ill, the various therapies used, such as occupational therapy, psychotherapy, industrial therapy, hydrotherapy, insulin, electro shock therapy, also psychiatry relating to the predisposing and immediate cause and the prognosis and care of those who are ill. Psychology, stressing the application of sound psychological principles of a well integrated personality. Neurology, a review of anatomy and physiology of the nervous system. Microbiology, theory and laboratory. Materia Medica, a study of drugs from the standpoint of therapeutic action. Pathology, a study of disease of abnormalities of tissues of the body.

This course is followed by two years of affiliation.

Applicants have to be examined by family physicians and further examinations are made by a staff physician before the student is accepted, and routine health examinations are made at intervals.

The course progresses from the simple to the complex, and all students must make an average of at least 75 percent. Madeline has her senior matriculation, passing with a university entrance. She has passed her medical, received the necessary inoculations, had her private interview with the superintendent of the Ponoka hospital and is all ready to report for duty on August 31.

Good Deeds W.I. Hears Report

Good Deeds W. I. met at the home of Miss Viva Dennison for the August meeting which took the form of a Court Whist party, after a brief business meeting.

Cards of sympathy were signed by those present, to be sent to Mr. and Mrs. H. Smith and Mr. and Mrs. D. Campbell on the recent bereavement in their families.

Mrs. C. Brown gave a concise report of the June W. I. Conference in Barons.

The roll call consisted of guessing the number of buttons in a bottle. Mrs. H. I. Montgomery guessed nearest and received a prize. The surprise package draw was won by Mrs. P. Clark.

Four tables were filled for whist first prize going to Mrs. C. Brown and consolation to Mrs. A. Fisher. Mrs. S. White will be hostess at the September meeting.

Ambassador at Work

Danny Kaye is about to sample a glass of soybean 'milk.' Dr. S. S. De, nutrition officer for the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations (FAO) in Bangkok, does the honors. The film comedy star has been touring the Far East as Ambassador-at-large for the United Nations Children's Fund (UNICEF). FAO and UNICEF have been working hand-in-hand in promoting soybean milk as a substitute for animal milk to overcome protein deficiencies in popular diets, especially in countries of the Far East.

Those Free Paragraphs

Newspapers are generally so generous in the matter of giving free publicity to this, that and the other organization, that there are many members of the public who have lost all sense of proportion in this matter.

Sometime ago a man came into this office and announced that he had "some advertising" and forthwith handed over a typewritten manuscript with a request that it be published in the most conspicuous place possible.

Investigation disclosed that the advertisement referred to consisted of nine words; the matter to be published to be over a half column.

It does not seem to dawn on some people that a newspaper lives on the space it sells, just as a store keeper in any line of business lives on the commodity he sells. They look upon a newspaper as a vehicle for the free publication of paragraphs about forthcoming concerts, meetings, games, and what not but they never dream of entering a retail store and asking to be presented with a sack of sugar, a roast of beef or any other article. Yet, it would be just as logical, or illogical, for them to do so as to demand an inch or a foot of free space from a newspaper.

Broadly speaking there is very little "news" in an event before it happens. And after it happened it does become "news". The object of preliminary paragraphs is to advertise the event so as to scare up a crowd and keep down their expenses.

At the end of 1953 the Federal government had 40,000,000 pounds of butter stockpiled as a result of price-support operations.

Little Crop Damage Done

Heavy Rain and Hail Again Hits Vulcan District

The cool, cloudy weather which had prevailed in Vulcan and district for the past week, really let loose the beginning of this week and soaked the district with a very heavy rainfall with hail also quite evident on Monday evening.

Although not as severe as the storm which hit Vulcan earlier in the month, the one on Monday evening left the town looking as though winter had set in. The storm was accompanied by strong winds and severe lightning and thunder.

The rain continued all day on Tuesday and Tuesday evening with very little let up. However, Wednesday morning was brighter and by Wednesday noon the sun had broken through and started the long process of drying the ground so that farmers could again get on the land and get their harvesting work completed.

Todd, Robert Todd, Jack Deans, Cliff Marshman, Spence C. Lewis, H. Marshman, Earl Deal, Ed Finck, Joe Collier, Ross Walker and Howard Burrell.

Active pallbearers were Norman Soder, Reinhold Lundgren, Earl Erickson, Roy Deal, Orval Roe and John Hilop.

Arrangements were in charge of Shodgrass Funeral Home, High River, with interment being made in the Vulcan cemetery.

Champion Oldtimer Passes Away

An oldtime resident of the Champion district, Mrs. Mary Beingsner, aged 90, passed away Monday Aug. 16 in a private nursing home in Calgary. She was married in 1884 in Bruce County, Ontario, and moved with her husband and family to the Champion district in 1909.

Farming west of Champion until 1930, they then moved to Calgary. She was predeceased by her husband in 1942 and a daughter Agnes in 1940.

Surviving her are three daughters, Mrs. Steve (Anna) Fath of Calgary, Mrs. Luke (Lena) Ohlheim of Vulcan, Miss Sarah Beingsner of Vancouver and five sons, Frank of High River, Sam and Edwin of Champion, Alphonse of Alix and Bert of Red Deer. There are 39 grandchildren and 34 great-grandchildren.

Requiem Mass was sung by Fr. Cramer of Clapham in the Church of the Immaculate Conception at Champion, Aug. 19 with interment in the Champion Catholic Cemetery.

Six grandsons, Philip Fath, Robert Fath, Allan Fath, Clarence Beingsner, Raymond Beingsner and Harold Beingsner were pallbearers.

D. J. Ross Laid To Rest

Daniel John Ross, born August 7th, 1889 at Baddock, Nova Scotia, passed away on August 17, 1954 at the Vulcan Hospital after a lengthy illness.

In 1907 Mr. Ross came west and ranched in the Claresholm district until about 1920 when he entered farming operations east of Vulcan.

He retired from farming in May of 1953 and married Mrs. G. A. Kuykendall, by whom he is now survived.

Rev. James Chapman conducted funeral services from the Vulcan United Church on Thursday afternoon with many friends and relatives attending to pay their last respects. Soloist was Cecil Warden.

Honorary pallbearers were Karl Dole, L. G. Clifford, Pete Lundgren, O. B. Roe, Pete Bowie, Geo.

A series of views of the Canadian Pacific Railway's new scenic dome lounge cars which will form part of the 15 new streamlined stainless steel trains now on order to replace existing equipment on the transcontinental runs between Montreal and Toronto and Vancouver, is show above. Eighteen cars of this type, now being displayed in a transcontinental tour of Canada, are included in the C.P.R.'s $40,000,000 order for 173 new cars, which will be put into service on existing trains as they are received from the builders, the

Agricultural Trends

Wheat production has increased substantially in both Canada and the United States in recent years. It now seems obvious that the prairie provinces of western Canada will readily produce an annual wheat crop of close to 500 million bushels and the United States crops will exceed a billion bushels. While favorable weather has been experienced in most years since the end of the war, it would appear that other factors contributed to increase wheat production. Larger farms, a greater degree of farm mechanization and improved varieties resistant to various diseases all make for greater production. Of course, the turn of a drought cycle in western Canada would cut production somewhat.

The United States has experienced drought years of late but not in the big wheat belt. But even under drought, present method of operation can produce a substantial total crop.

The total production of around 1½ billion bushels in Canada and the United States would provide a substantial surplus. The domestic demand in the United States runs around 800 million bushels and in Canada about 150 million or a total of 950 million bushels, leaving a surplus of 550 million bushels.

Whether world demand will take each year from North America 550 million bushels of wheat is questionable. Australia and Argentina are two important wheat exporting nations commanding a share of the world market. While world trade in wheat immediately after the war and up until a couple of years ago reached 900 million bushels, the total has been declining in recent years. Europe has regained its postwar position in wheat production. Turkey has become a substantial exporter and under favorable conditions Soviet Russia and its satellites can, and will, export quantities of wheat.

The province of Alberta does not compare with Saskatchewan in the volume of wheat production but Alberta is much better adapted than its eastern neighbor in the raising of livestock, poultry and dairy products. Those areas in Alberta particularly adapted to livestock, dairying, etc., should concentrate more on such production for the long term. In saying this, there can be no assurance given that there will not be ups and downs in the prices of such products but the likelihood is that there will be more effective demand for the same in the years ahead than there will be for wheat.

In the past few years the Canadian population has been growing at the rate of around 2½ per cent per annum, a faster rate of growth than that of the United States and indeed, one of the fastest in the world. Since 1945 some 3 million people have been added to the Canadian population. The population of the United States is also growing rapidly at a rate in excess of 2 million people a year and this is expected to continue. The increase in Canada's population will mean that there will be a greater demand for meat, poultry and dairy products. The domestic demand for wheat for human consumption is only about 150 million a year and is not likely to increase materially. The United States will not only take about 800,000 bushels of Canadian milling wheat a year. It is likely to take substantial quantities of other farm products from Canada.

The premise outlined are based on the probability that a severe depression will not develop. Domestic demand depends mainly on full employment at good wages. Recessions and depressions bring about reductions in diets as unemployed people have not the money to buy food in abundance. —Brooks Bulletin.

Edmonton Report

By Donald F. Smith

dence of Canadian railways' bid for more passenger traffic was seen in Alberta last week and again this week as the CPR previewed new equipment in the province's major centres.

Sleek, modern coaches with innovations such as the upper-level view dome and self-propelled diesel track vehicles are among some of the millions of dollars worth of new equipment with which the rail way aims to catch more travellers' patronage. In line with the thinking of railway officials of the past few years, the latest equipment is designed to serve all classes of passengers.

The CPR's new, gleaming transcontinental passenger coaches are the most impressive ever seen in Canada and are on a par with the crack liners pictured streaking through the scenery in American travel folders and advertisements.

Hailed as the biggest revolution in Canadian rail passenger travel since the switch from wood to steel cars, the 173 streamlined coaches purchased by the CPR at a cost of $40 million are of stainless steel construction. The cars are unpainted on the exterior except for stripes of red on which is gold lettering.

While the cars are being placed in service under regular transcontinental runs as they are delivered to the company, by next spring when the order is filled, the CPR trains running between Montreal and Toronto and Vancouver will be completely equipped with the new coaches. The trains will be pulled by the latest in diesel-electric locomotives.

Centre of attraction on the trains will be the scenic dome cars, the first to be used by a Canadian line, although they have been travelling U. S. lines for some time. These cars have a 24-seat upper level, glassed-in portion, as well as lounge and bedroom facilities at the lower level.

In addition to modern new dining cars, there are "coffee shop" coaches with glass-roofed dining sections at an upper level, seating 24 persons.

There are also 24 and 25 passenger sleeper cars and 60 passenger deluxe coaches with special provisions for leg comfort. There are also new facilities for the train crew in the baggage-dormitory cars, which provide space for 35, 650 pounds of baggage and bunks, washing, shower and toilet facilities for 15 men.

The CPR's other new innovation the self-propelled rail diesel cars, are finding considerable favor on branch lines in eastern Canada. Their first use in western Canada will be on the busy CPR line between Edmonton and Calgary.

With a capacity of 89 passengers the cars are capable of attaining speeds up to 85 miles per hour and the CPR is planning a 3½-hour schedule between the two Alberta cities, compared with its current 4½ hours. One of their main features lies in the ability to start and stop fast. From a standing start, they can be travelling 44 mph in one minute.

The cars may be run individually or coupled with similar units, the whole being run by one operator.

The ultimate advantage is that the railway, by being able to operate only one self-propelled unit at a time, can run a more frequent schedule than is possible with a locomotive, which must pull several coaches at a time to make the trip pay.

These changes are needed by Canadian railroads, in order to compete with other types of passenger transportation—buses, airlines and private motor cars. Limited in many ways, they still have the opportunity to play up advantages of rail travel not found in the other methods of transportation.

Pleasant, relaxing rides, coupled with faster, more frequent schedules and fare and eating prices for average travellers appear to be the aim and need today.

With The District Agriculturist Hugh Michael

Thresh Barley Carefully

A large portion of the barley crop is now used for human consumption in the Far East, particularly Japan. Because of this valuable market for Alberta barley, special care should be taken when combining, in order to avoid damage to the kernels. A little attention to the following factors will aid materially in the production of a sound product which is required.

The cylinder should be run as slow as it is possible in order to thresh the grain. Cylinder endplay should be corrected as it is a cause of damaged and cracked kernels. Crooked or bent cylinder or concave teeth, as well as damaged rasp bars, are also a source of trouble.

Concave should not be set up too close. The relationship between concave clearance and cylinder speed is quite definite; the lower the speed, the closer can be the clearance. Care should be taken to align cylinder and concave teeth properly. Rub bar cylinders do the best job of threshing when cylinder and concave clearance is set between 3-8 and 5-8 inches. Concave clearance should be changed as moisture conditions vary during the day.

Sieves should be adjusted for the least possible return. A heavy return increases the number of skinned kernels.

Plenty of wind should be used on the front of the sieves, to keep a mat of beards and chaff from forming. If the sieves are kept level or slightly high in the rear it will help separation. The use of too little wind is a common fault.

The Japanese market for our barley has become rather important and is worth taking the few extra precautions during harvesting.

Japan's imports of Canadian barley have increased from 26.1 metric tons during 1950-51 to 45.0 metric tons in 1952-53. A metric ton is 2204.6 pounds. A report issued by the Grain and Flour Mission states, "this new market for Canadian barley has been of the greatest significance and requires the closest attention."

Quebec's vast area north of Saguenay River still is largely unexplored.

ANYONE who ever visited London knows Piccadilly Circus, and the famous statue of Eros, God of Love, poised above its central fountain. This statue has taken a lot of punishment during the past sixty years, from both practical jokers and London smog. But, because the sculptor cast it in aluminum — it was the first large statue to be cast in the "new metal" — it has come safely through the years. When it was cleaned up for the Coronation, it gleamed as freshly as ever. The enduring beauty of aluminum has meanwhile made it a favorite of modern architects, furniture designers, decorators too. This year Harvest Operations will be a race against time. With men and machines setting a fast pace the risk of accidents increases.

Most accidents are caused by attempting to make adjustments with moving machinery and loose clothing. It is only common sense to stop machines completely before tinkering with parts. It's better to lose a few minutes than lose an arm, leg or your life.

MILO

A very pretty shower was held at the home of Mrs. H. E. Kirby in honor of Mrs. Gordon Winch, nee Marjory Palmer. Some 70 friends and guests from Milo, Queenstown and Arrowwood were in attendance.

The highlight of the evening was the presentation of gifts which had been placed in a huge jewel box decorated with double wedding rings some two feet across. The bride received many beautiful and useful gifts. The presentation was made by Miss Francis Winch and Mrs. Gordon Winch made a suitable reply. Nature not to be outdone, also put on a shower, over one-half inch of rain. As a result some of the guests were compelled to stay in town until morning.

An unusual and rather serious accident occurred to Harold Northcott. He had made a grass-cutting blade for a Roto Tiller. The blade picked up a small rock and hurled it into the victim's left eye. ### DAMAGED KERNELS LOWER GRADE Grain and seed are frequently damaged in the combining and threshing operation. Wheat kernels are easily split, barley is frequently peeled or broken and oats are hulled.

The amount of damage is a fact or in establishing the grade of the grain at the elevator, advises Robert L. Pharis, Supervisor of Crop Protection, Alberta Department of Agriculture. The loss is considerable, wheat which should grade a 2 northern may be a 3 or 4 as a result of split kernels. Barley which is peeled or broken is not suitable for malting and Japanese purchasers when buying barley for use as a rice substitute or in rice mixtures object to damaged kernels. Oat groats or hulled oats also lower the grade, thus discounting the value of the crop.

At a time when quality is so important in obtaining and keeping markets, Mr. Pharis advises farmers to see that the cylinder and concaves of their thresher and combine are in good repair, and to adjust the cylinder speeds to keep broken or damaged kernels to a minimum.

newsprint, the raw material of the press. At this moment, the pulp logs, stocked in winter on the frozen lake surfaces, are beginning their long journey down lakes and rivers to the mills to become any of more than 1,000 kinds of products. Crews of men "sweep" the swollen white waters of spring to make sure few of the valuable pulp logs are damaged or lost.
